

On January 15, 2018, a woman (66 years old) without a ticket and passport slipped through airport security and took a flight from Chicago to London. The woman entered Chicago O'Hare International Airport on January 14. First, she hid her face with her hair and passed two Transportation Security Administration officers who were controlling other passenger's boarding passes. After she was screened, she wanted to board a flight to Connecticut but failed. When the woman tried to sneak past the gate agent, she was stopped and directed to sit down. She stayed overnight at the airport and rode a shuttle bus to the international gate the next day, even though a passport and plane ticket are required to board the shuttle. She then entered a plane to Heathrow Airport (London), where she was detained by British customs officials. She arrived back in the United States on January 18. The woman is charged with theft and misdemeanor for trespassing.

A woman slipped through a airport security and boarded the plane and also checked out during screening. The woman could be fined and convicted for charges.

In 2018 a woman slipped through airport security without a ticket and got aboard. She arrived back in the United States on January 18. The woman is charged with theft and misdemeanor for trespassing.

A 66 year old women without a ticket or passport took a flight from chicago to London. She got passed the gates by hiding her face with her hair. She tried to board a flight to Connecticut but couldn't. She got charged with theft and trespassing.

A woman slipped through airport security and boarded a plane, and checked out during the screening. She could face time if convicted.

A woman was able to get on a plane without a ticket. She was later arrested and charged for it.

In 2018 a woman slipped passed security and boarded a plane. She was apprehended on January 2018 and charged with theft.

A woman who was 66 years old tried to get on a flight but didn't have a passport. She tried to hide her face so she could get on, but ultimately she got charged with trespassing.

A woman sneaked through airport security without being seen and was caught. She could face jail time for her transgression.

A woman tried to get on a flight but she did not have her passport. She tried to hide her face to get on but was caught and charged with trespassing.