

In late December 2017, a couple in Iowa checked on their 50 beehives when they discovered a tragic incident. The hives had been overturned and hacked apart, the equipment had been thrown out of the shed and smashed. This destruction caused the death of half a million bees and approximately $60,000 in property damage. Nearly three weeks later, two boys (12 and 13 years old) were arrested who are allegedly responsible for the damage. The charges against them include criminal mischief, offenses to an agricultural animal facility, and burglary. Since they are still minors, they'll be charged in juvenile court where they face up to 10 years in prison and fines up to $10,000 if convicted.

In december 2017 a couple in Iowa checked on their farm of nearly 50 beehives to discover them smashed. Equipment had been broken, hives destoroyed, bees released. Totaled up to nearly $60,000 in damages. Three weeks later, two young boys (aged 12 and 13) were arrested for the vandalism, and charged in juvenile court for their ridiculous display. I wonder just how much they got stung.

Two boys smashed some bees and destroyed property and were facing significant fines for doing so. Luckily they were able to hide the evidence so that, when brought to trial, there wasn't enough to convict them with. After they were set free, they looked for all kinds of other mischief to get into and wound up getting away with raiding a farm and setting the animals free.

A couple went into their backyard one day and saw that all of their beekeeping things and hives were destroyed. It turned out to be vandalism by a 13 year old and a 14 year old.

Once upon a time there was a group of kids. These kids were not smart. They decide to mess with a beehive and kill the bees. Little did they know that there is more than one bee and they are not afraid to sting you.

One day a couple went to enjoy their backyard. Turns out two teenagers had destroyed all of their beekeeping equipment.
