

In late December 2017, a couple in Iowa was checking on their 50 beehives when they discovered a tragic incident. The hives had been overturned and hacked apart and the equipment had been thrown out of the shed and smashed. This destruction caused the death of about half a million bees and approximately $60,000 in property damage. Nearly three weeks later, two boys (12 and 13 years old) who are allegedly responsible for the damage were arrested. The charges against them include criminal mischief, offenses to an agricultural animal facility, and burglary. Since they are still minors, they will be charged in juvenile court where they face up to 10 years in prison and fines up to $10,000 if convicted. However, it is expected that the two boys won't be convicted, because they still insist on their innocence and the evidence against them is weak.

About half a million bees died and $60,000 in property damage happened when 2 boys age 12 and 13 vandalized a property. They were arrested and charged as minors. They can serve jail time up to 10 years and be fined. The boys deny responsibility and the evidence is weak so it won't be likely they will serve any jail time.

2 boys of the ages 13 and 14 wrecked an Iowa's couple's beehive farm and caused 60000 in damages. Since they are minors they will be taken to court in juvenile detention but may not be convicted because they claim innocence.

Late December 2017, beekeepers found their beehives overturned and hacked. The damages to the equipment amounted to $60,000 and the bees were displaced. Later the suspected culprits, a 12 and 13 year old boy will be put on trial. But they are minors and are denying their involvement.
