

In late December 2017, a couple in Iowa was checking on their 50 beehives when they discovered a tragic incident. The hives had been overturned and hacked apart and the equipment had been thrown out of the shed and smashed. This destruction caused the death of about half a million bees and approximately $60,000 in property damage. Nearly three weeks later, two boys (12 and 13 years old) who are allegedly responsible for the damage were arrested. The charges against them include criminal mischief, offenses to an agricultural animal facility, and burglary. Since they are still minors, they will be charged in juvenile court where they face up to 10 years in prison and fines up to $10,000 if convicted. Police officials explained that the investigation is still in progress, but the evidence so far overwhelmingly speaks for the guilt of the suspects.

Some beekeepers in Iowa made a terrible discovery when they found that their hives had been turned over by intruders. The damage was very costly and police were able to pin down two teenage suspects, 12 and 13, as responsible for the crime. The teens now face 10 years and up to 10,000 in fines for the crime.

How likely that the main character(s) committed the crime?: 75

In December of 2017, a couple in Iowa discovered that their beehives had been totally destroyed and half a million bees had died during this tragic incident. The hives had been overturned and hacked apart and smashed to bits. This destruction also resulted in $60,000 worth of property damages. About three weeks later, two boys aged 12 and 13 respectively, were arrested for the crime. The charges against them include criminal mischief and burglary. If found guilty, they could face up to ten years in prison and a fine up to $10,000. The investigation is still in progress. The evidence so far overwhelmingly puts the boys at the scene of the crime.

How likely that the main character(s) committed the crime?: 100

A couple from Iowa went out to check on their 50 beehives. When they discovered a tragic scene. All of the beehives were cut open and the shed was torn apart and there were many things damaged. It caused a huge amount of money in damages. The 12 and 13 year old boys that were accused of doing this were arrested and were being charged with burglary and damage to an agricultural farm. If found guilty they could spend up to 10 years in jail and face fines.

How likely that the main character(s) committed the crime?: 85

In 2017, a couple in Iowa lost half a million bees. The hives had been destroyed intentionally. It was $60,000 worth of damage. A 12 and 13 year old was arrested for it a few weeks later and they were charged with criminal mischief. They may have to go to prison and pay a fine.

How likely that the main character(s) committed the crime?: 100

Two boys, aged 12 and 13 tore apart and smashed beehives in Iowa. The damages came out to $60,000 and could face up to 10 years in prison and $10,000 in fines.

How likely that the main character(s) committed the crime?: 100

Iowa couple found bee hives damaged boy 10 yo arrested could spend 10 yrs in jail.

How likely that the main character(s) committed the crime?: 85