

Because of a routine check on a cargo vessel, the Indonesian police was able to prevent a smuggling attempt. They found about 150 exotic birds stuffed into plastic drain pipes that were sealed at each end by a wire. The animals were meant to be transported to the US, where they can be sold as pets. Officials assume that the operation was planned and executed by a wildlife trafficking ring. This delivery is worth approximately $250,000. Nearly one week after discovering the illegally captured birds, the police arrested four men who are allegedly responsible for this act. The suspects face up to five years in prison and a fine of up to $8000 if found guilty. However, the case rests on an anonymous tip which provides a very weak case and all four suspects still deny any connection to the smuggling affair. Thus, it is still not clear, whether they were involved, or not.

Due to the routine check of an Indonesian vessel police stopped a smuggling ring. The found over 250 exotic birds stuffed into a tube with both ends closed with wire. These birds were meant to be smuggled into the us and be sold as beds. The birds amount to about 250,000. Four men were arrested and if found guilty face up to 5 years in prison and a 8000 fine. However there was an anyonomous tip that led police to these four men. they deny any connection and may not be involved.

How likely that the main character(s) committed the crime?: 11

Due to a routine inspection, Indonesian police intercepted a shipment of $250,000 worth of exotic birds. There have been arrests made over this, but person who tipped off the police remains anonymous and that creates a bit of a weak case as to whether or not those arrested are truly part of this smuggling operation or not.

How likely that the main character(s) committed the crime?: 79