

Since mid-April 2018, a region in Bavaria, Germany, has faced a series of fires set by one or more vandals that ignited trash cans, a car, and even an entire town house. At its peak, 8 different fires were started in a single night. Fortunately, nobody was hurt, but the material damages are estimated at around $450,000. The police could not make significant advances in finding the perpetrator until they publicly offered a reward of $6000 for each helpful tip. A crumpled-up black shirt found at one of the crime scenes and bearing a unique design may have been the critical clue. About a week ago, the police arrested a 37 year old suspect on charges of second-degree arson. If found guilty, he will face up to 10 years in prison. According to recent reports though, experts don't believe that the existing evidence clearly points to him.

There was an arson crime and it was hard to identify the suspect until police offered significant reward. Middle aged man was caught and may face 10 years in prison if found guilty

In 2018, a region in Bavaria, Germany faced a series of arson crimes. People started fires by igniting trash cans, and even a town house. At its peak, there were 8 fires started in one night. Although nobody was hurt, the material damages summed up to about $145,000. The police were not able to get any leads until they offered $6000 for each helpful tip that they received. A crumpled up black shirt with a unique logo on it may have been the most helpful clue. They later arrested a 37 year old man on charges of second-degree arson, however experts say there is not enough evidence to convict him.

In Bavaria, Germany, there have recently been 8 fires set to trash cans, resulting in $450,000 in damages. The police a 37-year-old man as a suspect, after rewarding $6000 for any tips about the perpetrator. However, they are not sure if he is the true suspect.

Someone committed arson. After a reward was put up for information on the criminal, an old man was identified and could face jail time for it.

A region in Bavaria, Germany was the location of several arson related crimes, from fires in trash cans to houses. The damages were $145,000. The police were not able to find any leads until offering $6000 for each tip. The only helpful lead they found was a crumpled black t shirt, which led to an arrest of a 37 year old man, although there is not enough evidence for his arrest.

In Bavaria, Germany, there had been 8 car fires which had a cost of $450,000 dollars. The police had a tip off. But they could find nothing.

An old man was identified and is a suspect for committing arson and can be put in jail for it.

In Bavaria, there were a series of crimes that included burning trash cans and robbery. The damages went up to $145,000. The police didn't find any leads until they offered rewards of $6000 for a tip. The only useful tip the police found was a black t-shirt that lead to the arrest of a 37 year old man, although this wasn't enough evidence for his arrest.

In Balvania, Germany there had been 8 car fires, that cost a total of 450,000 dollars. The police were tipped off. They could find nothing.

In Barvania, there has been a spree of crimes including destroying property and arson. Such crimes have been incredibly costly and no leads were found until there was a reward. The only lead was that the man was wearing a black shirt. A 37 year old was suspected but the info given is insufficient to justify arrest.

In Balvania, Germany there have been 8 car fires that led to $450,000 in damages. The police have not been able to figure out who is responsible.

A 37 year old is suspected of arson in Bavaria.

In Balvania, Germany, police have not been able to find the one responsible for 8 car fires whose damages totaled ~450,000 (euros?)