

On January 15, 2018, a woman (66 years old) without a ticket and passport slipped through airport security and took a flight from Chicago to London. The woman entered Chicago O'Hare International Airport on January 14. First, she hid her face with her hair and passed two Transportation Security Administration officers who were controlling other passenger's boarding passes. After she was screened, she wanted to board a flight to Connecticut but failed. When the woman tried to sneak past the gate agent, she was stopped and directed to sit down. She stayed overnight at the airport and rode a shuttle bus to the international gate the next day, even though a passport and plane ticket are required to board the shuttle. She then entered a plane to Heathrow Airport (London), where she was detained by British customs officials. She arrived back in the United States on January 18. The woman is charged with theft and misdemeanor for trespassing.

A woman was able to fly to another country with no passport and no flight. She snuck through Security at Chicago O'Hare. She hid from the cameras and was able to sneak through. She tried to get a domestic flight, but was not successful. She was also caught by security and asked to stay. Somehow she was still able to sneak into the international terminal. She made it all the way to the UK before she was detained by the British authorities.

Incredible, a woman who travels, without a passport and without a flight; Nothing more and nothing less came to the United Kingdom, mocking the security of the airport, incredible
