Since mid-April 2018, a region in Bavaria, Germany, has faced a series of purposefully set fires burning trash cans, a car and even an entire town house. At its peak, eight different fires were started in a single night. Fortunately, nobody was hurt, but the material damages were estimated at around $450,000. The police could not make significant advances in finding the perpetrator, until they publicly offered a reward of $6000 for each helpful tip. A black shirt with a unique design which was found on one of the crime scenes might have given the critical clue. About a week ago, the police arrested a 37 year old suspect on charges of severe arson. If found guilty, he will face up to 10 years in prison. According to recent reports, experts don't believe that the existing evidence leaves any doubt about his guilt

I think, people don't buy that a shirt at the scene is enough evidence to prove someone's guilt.

Bavaria, Germany has experienced a recent rash of intentionally set arson fires. One night there were 8 fires mainly from cars and cans. These fires have caused $450,000.00 in damages. The police offered a reward of $6000.00 and a 30 something year old man was arrested when the police discovered a distinctive design on the man's shirt. He could face 10 years and the case is solid against the man.

How likely that the main character(s) committed the crime?: 100

A man in Germany caused different fires resulting in $450000 worth of damage. The police identified the culprit based on design he wore. He could face up to 8 years in prison.

How likely that the main character(s) committed the crime?: 30

Bavaria, Germany has been experiencing a rash of arson incidents since mid April of 2018. One night there were as many as 8 intentionally set fires of things like garbage cans and cars. The fires have caused $450,000 in damages. The police offered a $6000 reward for clues to the perpetrators. A 37 year old man was arrested after police discovered a black shirt with a distinctive design at the scene of one of the fires. The man faces 10 years in prison if convicted. Officials do not think the evidence leaves any room for doubting his guilt in the matter.

How likely that the main character(s) committed the crime?: 4

In Bavaria, Germany, a man was arrested for arson. He had committed multiple crimes. He left a black shirt at his crime scenes. The police are sure he is guilty, mostly because of the black shirt.

How likely that the main character(s) committed the crime?: 31

In 2018 lots of fires were set in Germany. at the peak of arson, 8 fires were set in one night. A trash can, a car, and an entire town house were burned down. The damage was in excess of $450,000. Police were unable to catch the arsonist until they made a reward of $6,000 available. A black shirt was found with a unique pattern at the scene of the crime. Police arrested a suspect and he is presumed guilty.

How likely that the main character(s) committed the crime?: 17

In 2018 Germany had an outbreak of fires. As many as 8 fires were set in one night totaling $450,000 in damages. The police found a shirt and issued a reward of $6000 for any information on the suspect. The suspect was found and presumed guilty.

How likely that the main character(s) committed the crime?: 28 in 2018 there were lots of fires set in Germany. Damaging almost half a million dollars. Police have a suspect and he is assumed guilty.

How likely that the main character(s) committed the crime?: 20

this year a region in germany has faced a bunch of fires, nobody was hurt but it caused a lot of property damage. police had difficulty finding a culprit but after offering a $6000 award have found a suspect.

How likely that the main character(s) committed the crime?: 58

This year a region in Germany has faced several fires. Police had difficulty finding a culprit, but after a $6000 reward was offered they now have a suspect.

How likely that the main character(s) committed the crime?: 24

THE suspect? Shouldn't this be "the committer"?

THe person that did this crime will be held responsible for it.

How likely that the main character(s) committed the crime?: 23

A European arrest warrant was issued for Amri after Monday night's tragedy in Berlin in which a lorry was hijacked and ploughed into wooden stalls and crowds of shoppers.

Twelve people were killed and 48 others were injured in the attack, which has been claimed by the Islamic State terrorist group.

It has been revealed since that Amri was known to German police and before traveling to the country he served four years in an Italian jail over accusations he set fire to a school.

He was previously arrested three times and let go, it has been reported.

READ MORE

Berlin attack suspect dead: Latest updates after A shot by

How likely that the main character(s) committed the crime?: 79

What the hell is this?